World Telegram has rumor coming from Princeton area that Einstein wrote a letter to Norman Thomas renouncing the 75th anniversary party given him and renouncing all solicited communist reports, and being sharply critical of many of the left wingers who were trying to tie themselves to him.

Telegram would like to know if letter was written and would like the contents.

William Michaelfelder, Barkley 7-3211

Miss Dukas said that Professor Einstein had written a private letter to Norman Thomas in answer to one received from him. She could not understand the rumor coming from this area, and doubted that Norman Thomas was releasing the letter, since it had not been very complimentary (but not in the tone construed by the rumor). She hoped it would just be dropped.

KR telephoned WM of the Telegram, saying that there had been private correspondence between the 2, but that we did not have the letters, that perhaps it would be best just to drop the matter. Explained that Miss Dukas said the letter to Thomas was not very complimentary, but that she did not understand the rumor nor the tone of it. WM agreed that the matter should be dropped since they could not get hold of the letter or any accurate information as to its contents (they tried N. Thomas). I suggested that possibly their informant was not too accurate on the basis of what Miss Dukas told me, and WM agreed that that was possible.

Dear Mr. Ward:

Your letter of July 24th enquiring about photographs and press releases of Professor Einstein has been referred to this office for reply. I have talked with Professor Einstein's personal secretary; and she informed me that they do not have photographs for distribution, nor do they have press releases which might be sent. Her suggestion is that you try to obtain the material from a central news bureau. Photographs may be obtained from Mrs. Lotte Jacobi-Reis, 46 West 52nd St., New York City; Mrs. Jacobi-Reis, I believe, has a file of photographs, and prints may be purchased from her. I am sorry we at the Institute cannot be of more help, and hope that you will be successful in obtaining the material you wish.

Dear Sir:

The outstanding photograph of Albert Einstein, as "A Man of Achievement" is about to be published in the December Esquire.

In a series of portraits by Yousuf Karsh, Esquire has chosen Professor Einstein as the first to be shown. The editors declare that it is appropriate to portray the great scientist in Esquire's Christmas issue because he is above all a man of simplicity, a man of good will.

The deepest character of Einstein is brought out so vividly in this Karsh camera portrait, in a large picture 10" x 13", that I felt you would want to know about this picture and bring it to the attention of his friends and admirers. For their information, the December Esquire will be available on November 10th.

Dear Miss Cook:

I have your letter of May 12th and regret to say that it would be quite impossible for Professor Einstein to undertake the speaking engagements you suggest. His health is not too robust and he is eager to devote all the strength which he has to his researches which he still continues. A public speech of five or ten minutes such as he sometimes makes to a small group here at the Institute is a great effort for him and it would be quite out of the question for him to undertake to address your Forums in Vermont.

Prof. Einstein:

I cannot tell how much I appreciate this privilege that means so much for me. It is through kindness of Dr. Aydelotte that these questions come to you. I realize how much you are continually being troubled about these things. Only let me tell you that I am not professional news man. This is a very special case in which the people of Cuba is given the opportunity of knowing something about your thinking directly. I am a student at the Seminary and a teacher at the University, and for a long time I have looked forth to the privilege of meeting you, and having your opinion on a few general questions to be published in Spanish in Cuba.

The name of the publication is BOHEMIA, and my contribution is entirely non-commercial. I expect no economic remuneration at all, but the satisfaction of publishing something of positive interest for my people.

Thank you so much.

These are the questions:

Do you expect physical science to develop much more that it has done so far?

Do you think that human progress in science will ever reach a limit?

In what way can science contribute to the establishment of international peace and wealfare?

How would you explain the fact that an era of tremendous scientific achievement coexists with a world troubled by wars, injustices, and all sorts of misunderstandings among men?

What is your idea of history? Do you believe in a purpose in history, — or events are merely the result the laws of cause and effect without any other spiritual or moral implication?

May 1, 1947

Dear Miss Dukas:

A Cuban student at the Seminary came in to see me yesterday to ask whether Professor Einstein would give him an interview for publication in Cuban papers. I replied that Professor Einstein was not very well and that I did not think he would be able to comply with this request.

Senior Llerena then asked whether I would be willing to submit some written questions to Professor Einstein for reply. I said I would submit the questions, but would not promise that Professor Einstein would reply to them. I enclose the list of questions herewith. They are typically Latin-American and they are questions to which in my opinion no one knows the answer.

If Professor Einstein is interested to answer them, I shall of course be glad to transmit his replies to Mr. Llerena, but if he wishes to ask to be excused, I should consider it entirely justifiable and I will make the suitable explanations.

We should like very much to use a biography and photo of Dr. Einstein in an early issue of our high school science paper, CURRENT SCIENCE AND AVIATION. We are interested in the more human side of Dr. Einstein and would appreciate releases which touch on this side of the man. If possible, we should like to secure an informal photograph of him.

As you may know, we are publishers of 12 weekly school newspapers widely used in grades one through twelve throughout the United States. Our editors are constantly in search of new and accurate stories and pictures for use in these papers.

All photos will carry credit lines and we shall send copies of the papers in which they appear. If suitable, the material will be carried in a number of our publications.

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

Due to the phone strike, I was unable to call you beforehand for an appointment, and so, on April 9th, happening to be in Princeton on other business, I visited the Institute hoping to discuss with you the possibility of Paramount making a single reel motion picture record of Dr. Einstein. In your absence, I spoke with Miss Richardson, who has no doubt already indicated to you the general nature of what I should herewith like to propose in greater detail.

The basis of my thinking in this matter is essentially as follows: Dr. Einstein is a world figure in whom there is tremendous interest today, and one whose stature will increase as the years go on. It seems to me that, with outstanding motion picture facilities only a few miles from the community in which Dr. Einstein works and resides, future generations will consider it inexcusable that no film document was ever made of one of the dominant personalities of our time.

While it is true that occasional glimpses of Dr. Einstein have been presented on the screen, nevertheless there is, to my knowledge, no complete reel that will serve to perpetuate his personality, disclose his mode of life and work during these American years, and simultaneously indicate his past achievements and expound his humanist philosophy.

I believe that a ten-minute film, although obviously brief, can be a successful vignette, encompassing all of the above. While I realize that Dr. Einstein is a modest man, perhaps, looking at my proposal objectively, he may see some virtue in it; especially as, to my mind, a vital part of the picture would be the forceful presentation, by him, of the idea that atomic energy must be outlawed as a materiel of war.

If the film can be made, it will be shown throughout the world upon its completion. The master negative will be retained in the Paramount archives, thereby assuring available prints for posterity.

Until we are fortunate enough to receive Dr. Einstein's reaction, I shall merely add now that all photography and sound recording can be done in Princeton at Dr. Einstein's convenience, and that the editorial treatment of the picture and the handling of all details will be carried out with dignity and in good taste.

Miss Richardson has told me that you will be kind enough to take up this matter with Dr. Einstein. Most appreciative of any aid you choose to give me in bringing the project to fruition, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Major Consadine:

I showed Einstein the script and he objects to it very strongly on the ground that it does not conform to the facts. I think your script writer had better consult Professor Wigner of Princeton University and get the facts about Einstein's participation in the atomic bomb straight.

That participation took two forms. In the first place the whole theory of the atomic bomb is based upon Einstein's equation of 1905 which indicated the enormous force which would be available if matter could be converted into energy.

In the second place, Einstein did take the matter up with President Roosevelt and his action impressed the President sufficiently to cause the Government to undertake atomic research.

Einstein would very much prefer that these matters should be brought in by personal conversation between other scientists rather than to represent him personally in the film. I am inclined to think myself that if you kept Einstein out of the film but only talked about his theories it might be a more impressive way of doing it.

I wish you would think that matter over and consult Professor Wigner about it.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

Pursuant to your conversation this date with our Mr. Holdsworth regarding Professor Einstein's statement about the atomic bomb, I shall outline briefly what we should like to have from the Professor.

Since the first official announcement of the bomb and its peace-winning place in world history, we have through the media of our newsreel attempted to put before the public the tremendous importance of the development. We have shown motion pictures of the bomb exploding, we have devised animated charts depicting in lay manner how it works, where the energy comes from, etc. We now are contemplating further pictorial treatment of the subject and, so long as Professor Einstein has released his views on the affect of the bomb in the years to come, we would appreciate the privilege of sharing them with the daily press.

As you know, newsreels are legitimate news organs. However, because we show in pictures what newspapers convey in print our approach to this type of story is sometimes difficult. In the instance of the Professor, we desire to film a sound statement along the same theme as his release to the daily press. His international fame as the leading scientist of our era would greatly augment the atom subject we propose to do.

In his own words, we would like him to tell the newsreel public precisely what he has already told the newspaper readers. We are entirely at the Professor's disposal, the talk may be filmed any place and time he chooses, and the whole process won't take up more than one half hour of his time. The theatre-going people of North America would, I'm certain, know a lot more about this miraculous creation of Man's Mind if they heard about it from the lips of perhaps the greatest living exponent of that Mind.

I know that the Professor is a busy man, but if he would be gracious enough to comply with our request we'd like to arrange to meet with him at his earliest convenience.

Dear Mr. Griffin:

Mr. Cooper has referred your letter of March 18th to me. The fact is that Professor Einstein is not at all well. He is now retired and he is at the same time working desperately to try to finish the solution of a very important problem before his working days are over. For this reason we all of us consider it our duty to save him as much effort as possible. Do you know what Mr. McIntire and Mr. Leh wish to talk to him about? If they merely wish to meet him socially that would be one thing but if they have some concern which they want him to consider, I think they ought to give him an advance notice of it.

Dear friend:

More than a year ago you kindly sent me an autographed photo of Professor Einstein which I appreciate very much. Following more than one subsequent period of illness, only now am I caught up with my work on what I now have hopes will be a book, on twenty-one selected MEN OF SCIENCE,--alphabetically already completing my contributions on Bell, Burbank, Carver, A. H. Compton, Edison and Einstein,--working ahead today on Langmuir,--recently finishing Ericsson, Ford, Mergenthaler and Pasteur. Others skipped over temporarily, waiting for more material, would be Faraday, Firestone and Kettering before Langmuir were called for. I enjoy the task, but anemic hands compel me to turn to my typewriter for most of my recent writing.

I am enclosing a copy of my "Einstein" sketch and I wish he might be willing to read it through, correcting or otherwise altering the theme, for which I have typed the lines double-spaced to facilitate his offering suggestions.

About the time--November 26, 1945--that you sent me Einstein picture, the Washington D. C. "Pathfinder" ran a portrait of him on its cover showing him holding a pen in his hand,--a most expressive likeness of Mr. Einstein. Last August our second son, Col. H. W. Kent, graduate of Northwestern University, took charge of the noted Kamehameha system of private schools in Hawaii. I could wish I had a print from the "Pathfinder" picture for my MEN OF SCIENCE, and send the one I have to him with instructions that it be framed and put in the science department of their high school, if I ask not too much. The kindly face alone is an inspiration to young as well as old.

Dear sir:

In my retirement from thirty years as principal in the Chicago schools, I have returned here to my birthplace, and am encouraging the development of a local historical society, with the hope that a historical museum may eventuate.

For the assemblage of exhibits I am planning a "de Luxe" ALBUM of "Twelve Learners of Science," and I am writing to ask if you would supply a portrait of Albert Einstein for such purpose? I should like and plan that each were about 8" x 10" as to proportions. Could there be a bit of material from which I could glean a sketch of modest acclaim for this man Einstein, for whom millions of people in all walks of life "take off their hats" in admiration?

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Kent:

I have received your postcard and take pleasure in sending you under separate cover a photograph of Professor Einstein for your Album.

I note that your postcard was addressed to Princeton University. As a matter of fact Professor Einstein is not connected with Princeton University but is a professor in the Institute for Advanced Study which is a separate institution with its own endowment funds and its own Board of Trustees. The most recent Bulletin of the Institute which I am also sending you under separate cover will give you an idea of its character.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Margot:

Here is the material which I want your father to see. It is then for him to say whether he wants his name added to the others who are signing this advertisement and whether he is willing to send them a picture. Personally I hesitate to give your father advice except to say that I have a feeling that his statements are more effective when he makes them individually rather than as a member of a group.

The World Federalists would like to have a reply as soon as possible by telephone to Mr. Ogilby or Mr. Griessemer in New York at Rhineland 4-8931. If you or Miss Dukas care to telephone them this evening no matter how late after your father arrives, they would appreciate it, or if you care to have me, I will do the telephoning. If you want me to pass the message on to them, please call me at my house.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

Thank you very much indeed for your letter of August 20, and especially for your kindness in transmitting to Dr. Einstein the invitation to speak at Tufts College. While we are of course disappointed that he cannot accept, I am sure we understand his position in regard to such invitations.

Dear Leonard:

I received your letter of August 13th and have consulted Einstein about the possibility of making an address at Tufts College. He asks me to say that it would be impossible for him to do so.

Einstein is not as young as he once was, his health is none too robust, he has, as you may imagine, hundreds of invitations of this kind, and he has been compelled to adopt a policy of refusing to make public addresses, even on subjects in which he is most interested.

With many regrets, I am

Dr. Frank Aydelotte
Institute for Advanced Study
Princeton, New Jersey

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

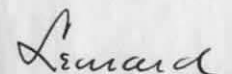

Tufts College has an active student club known as "The Student Federalists." The members of the club are interested in a sensible way, it seems to me, in promoting world government. The head of the group, Eugene Lyons, came into my office this morning and said that the group had decided that it would like to have a convocation on a Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday, November 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, or 21, and that they very much wish that Dr. Albert Einstein of your faculty might be induced to make the address of the occasion on "World Government and Atomic Energy." They would be delighted to pay an honorarium of $200 and traveling expenses.

It is planned to have the address at eight o'clock in our large gymnasium, which can be arranged to seat 3000 individuals. Students of the other colleges in Greater Boston will be invited and it is also hoped that the address may be broadcasted. The auditorium is arranged with amplifiers so that speaking to a large group is no inconvenience.

I am writing to you rather than directly to Professor Einstein because I thought you might be willing to tell him that you knew me and that you felt that the location of our college is such that he might well find an address of this sort to be one which would be rather widely noticed. I feel that it is important at the present time to do everything we can to see that our students are really well informed on the great problem that we hope Dr. Einstein will speak about.

I am sorry to bother you concerning this question, but I thought you might be willing to help me in this matter, which seems very important.

Sincerely yours,

Leonard Carmichael

August 14, 1946

Security through world government is the most important and pressing problem in our time. From a preliminary country-wide poll it seems that more than sixty percent of the American people are ready for a partial transmission of the sovereignty of the state to a world government, to a degree that will guarantee the peaceful solution of international conflicts. The present Senate, however, has declared itself opposed to any restriction of sovereignty.

The question is now: Are the people determined to exercise a decisive influence? In my opinion everyone should make his vote for his senator or representative depend on whether the candidate has expressed his position in this most important issue with complete clarity.

Dear Dr Aydelotte,

It was tremendously good of you to persuade Dr Einstein to send a message for our Sept. 8 meeting. I am so very sorry to hear of the anxiety and trouble he is going through - and of course will mention it to no one. I do feel that what we are doing at this meeting is of vital importance, or I would not ask him.

I wondered if it would make things any easier for him to see the Ten Points that our Round Table discussions have disclosed as basic to all Religions, and that we are stressing in our meeting, as basic to our world life and to the work of the United Nations and any concerted world effort today. Every one of the representatives of the various Faiths represented at our Round Table has said "Yes - each of these points is taught by my religion"; and though many people declared that it would be impossible to find a spiritual world platform on which all peoples could agree, these same people now say that we have found one.

You would be surprised - and I know pleased - to hear how many schools, colleges, and churches are asking for these World Faiths Round Tables, and wanting to incorporate them in their studies for next year. I have been requested to train speakers to introduce them in the women's clubs (these represent four million American women), and also to start a correspondence course so that people all over the country can pursue the studies individually. We expect to develop a more extensive program especially for teachers and educators, after the September meeting.

With warm thanks for your very kind help, and looking forward to seeing you at the meeting,

Yours sincerely,

Ruth Cranston

If you think this would be troublesome rather than helpful to Dr E. dont give it to him. I just thought it might make it easier for him to have something specific to talk about, and to endorse, if he agrees with the Ten Points. You will know much better than I whether or not to show this to him R.C.

Dear Mrs. Granston:

I have dragooned Einstein into making a statement for you but I was really ashamed to do it. He is staying here this summer because of the serious illness of his sister. She slipped the other day getting out of bed and the question now is whether she can be expected to live long enough for these bones ever to mend. Naturally Einstein is deeply concerned and spends all his spare hours away from work with her. Nevertheless he will try to put something together and I will post it off to you immediately. and broke her leg

Gentlemen:

One of our clients has made a request for a few color photographs of Professor Einstein at home - reading, relaxing, etc. We discovered that we have not a good photo either in color or in black and white of Professor Einstein in our files. Therefore we are taking this opportunity to request permission to assign one of our able color photographers to take several shots of the Professor at home.

These pictures can be taken in a very short time as we use flash bulbs rather than bulky photographic lights.

If we could be granted about one hour anytime of the day or evening with Professor Einstein I'm sure that we will be able to obtain the desired photos.

Of course all photographs made will be sent back to you for approval prior to their release.

May we hear from you soon regarding this request?

Very truly yours,

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

You may assure Dr. Einstein that there will be no confusion because of his letter to me and his statement to Mr. Swing. The latter will be in charge at the dinner and hence in control of anything concerning Dr. Einstein's statement.

Relative to our discussion about a moving picture of Dr. Einstein reading his statement, my pen blushes at my temerity in disagreeing with you in that this may be theatrical in a politician's idea of publicity.

To have Dr. Einstein consent to this movie we would be using one of science's most effective ways of transmitting a message to the public - an appeal to the eye as well as to the ear. Of course it is theatrical but in the same way as the theatre has given to the world the plays of Shakespeare and other authors with immortal messages to humanity.

Dr. Einstein's statement is so important that every means should be used to bring it to the public at large, and as Justice Roberts will be one of our Speakers his position and dignity will assure Dr. Einstein of like treatment of his statement.

I am thankful that you agreed to help in having this done, but I will be proud as well as deeply grateful to you if you succeed.

With every good wish and deep appreciation for all that you are doing, I am

When Einstein got home yesterday afternoon and reported to his secretary the statement which he and I had agreed upon and which I sent to you, she immediately reminded him that he had given an interview to Raymond Gram Swing and that Mr. Swing had asked permission to quote from this interview at the dinner at the Waldorf.

Einstein is entirely willing to have you use the message which I sent, or to have Mr. Swing quote him. His only concern is that you do not create a ridiculous situation by quoting two messages from him sent through different routes.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Swing and shall leave it to you to settle with him the way in which you wish Einstein's contribution to be reported.

Dear Dr. Aydelotte:

If I have shown in the past any unwelcome pressure upon you, please forgive it. All my actions have been prompted by a most sincere desire to help in a movement which may be of great value to all. I deeply feel that this time it will not be "condemned to penury and woe" as Senator Ingalls wrote in his "Opportunity", but will be chaos and oblivion should the great nations fail in harmonious organization in this new age of the atomic power.

All will welcome the draft of the statement to be prepared by Professor Einstein and yourself. In whatever manner it may be used, I am sure that I will not read it as we will have a choice of outstanding men at this dinner who would add to the power of Professor Einstein's statement.

Should you be willing to arrange an interview with Professor Einstein for Mr. Cherne along the lines stated in the latter's letter to me which I left with you, both Mr. Cherne and I will be gratified.

Dear Mr. Randall:

In reply to your inquiry I can only repeat the statement I have made at various times that in my opinion the only way in which mankind can save itself from destruction is by the organization of a world government. The weapons of modern warfare have developed to such a degree that it seems probable that in another world war the victor would suffer only less than the vanquished. As long as there are sovereign states with their separate armaments, the prevention of war is well nigh impossible. It is my belief that most of the people of most of the countries of the world would prefer peace and security to the preservation of the unrestricted national sovereignty of their respective countries. The only way of realizing that world-wide aspiration is by the creation of a world government which would inaugurate a reign of law around the earth.

Yours sincerely,

ALBERT EINSTEIN

It is not in the least necessary for you to come down to Princeton to get Einstein's statement. I will assist him in preparing it and shall be glad to send it to you by mail. I am not quite sure whether I can attend the dinner to read it myself but if I cannot, I think that you should read it. I have not yet had time to go into the thing with Einstein but I think he can make a better statement than the one which was printed in the newspapers. I expect to discuss the matter with him later this week and shall send you a draft of what we are able to produce.

At the same time I will take up with Einstein the question of whether he wants to see Mr. Cherns and shall let you know his reply.

Dear Doctor Aydelotte:

Enclosed I send you, in accordance with my promise, the clipping of an interview with Doctor Einstein, entitled "Einstein for World State", which was published in the New York Herald-Tribune, last Saturday, September 15th.

Doctor Einstein expresses in few words a conclusion which all must accept if we are to survive - namely a World State.

Some things are so important that we can insist with a "must" and to have you and Doctor Einstein at our proposed dinner is one of these "musts". I, therefore, leave it to you.

Dear Doctor Aydelotte:

Thank you, again, for your kindness yesterday.

I enjoyed the beauty of Princeton, and the feeling of peace and security refulgent there. When I left I could not entirely overcome a feeling of sadness as I realized that this security and peace were far remote from the campuses and colleges of Europe and Asia, in years past - and will be remote both here as well as there, unless we do our part to end in embryo the seeds of war and hate.

Equipped as you are with the power of trained minds, in your great Institute, you can do many things for this sad, battered, old world. And, as you struggle ever forward, I hope, at least, to applaud from the side lines, if nothing else.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Randall:

Professor Einstein returned yesterday and I put up to him this morning the question of attending the dinner at the Waldorf on November 28th and making such a statement as the one quoted in the Herald Tribune.

Professor Einstein is very sorry indeed that he does not feel equal to attending the dinner. Making even a brief public statement takes a good deal more out of him than you can imagine. Furthermore, his accent deserts him on such an occasion and it is very difficult for him to make himself understood.

If you would care to have Professor Einstein make a statement which could be read at the dinner, he would be very glad to do that. It seems to me on the whole that this is the best solution.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Leidesdorf:

I have your letter of June 25, and had a talk this morning with Einstein about Judge Goldstein's request that Einstein speak at the meeting of the Council of Fraternal Organizations in New York in October. Einstein asked me to say that he very much regrets that he could not possibly do it.

Einstein has to be careful of his health and strength. Furthermore, he does not know anything about the Council of Fraternal Organizations, and it would be somewhat artificial for him to work up the subject and prepare a speech. He feels very strongly that it would be better for Judge Goldstein to find a speaker who has taken an active part in the movement. The effort which Einstein would have to make would be out of all proportion and really more than the present state of his health makes it advisable.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Aydelotte

June 18, 1946.

Mr. Sam Leidesdorf,
125 Park Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sam:

Federation's Council of Fraternal Organizations is now preparing to hold its annual Fall Convention in October. As you know, this traditional event serves a twofold purpose, to launch the Council's campaign in support of Federation's fund-raising drive; and to provide the impetus and inspiration so necessary to a successful campaign effort among the various societies and organizations.

This event, which we plan to hold in Temple Emanu-El, will be in a sense an expression of thankfulness by the people of the community for the existence of Federation as a refuge for those who are in need of comfort, guidance and healing. At the same time, it will serve as a reaffirmation of our determination to maintain, protect and expand this citadel of community service.

It is imperative to the general success of our campaign that the greatest possible number of representatives of fraternal groups hear this message. We feel that a truly great figure as guest speaker would be instrumental in achieving a really large turnout. Our guest speaker should be a person who has the love and respect and admiration of everyong, who can bridge the many differences of opinions and thoughts held by so diverse a group as ours.

Such a person is Albert Einstein. His beloved name and abiding prestige would invest the occasion with special significance for each of the representatives. Dr. Einstein has seen or experienced distress and trouble in many parts of the world. He could make them see clearly what a miracle the Jews in our community have wrought in building the great bulwark against hardship that is Federation.

We would deeply appreciate and be ever grateful if you would consent to use your good offices in securing Dr. Einstein for the Convention. We have purposely left the date of the Convention open, depending upon which of the following dates is most convenient for Dr. Einstein - October 13th or October 20th.

Every measure will be taken to assure his comfort and convenience. We shall pick him up by car, have a hotel room available for him for Saturday and Sunday evening, if he so desires, and shall return him to his home by car.

I hope you can get the Professor to say yes.

My warmest thanks in advance for your cooperation. With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Jonah

Dear Kallen:

I had a talk with Einstein about your invitation. He considered it most sympathetically but he is sorry to say that it is just impossible for him to do it.

Such a public address takes a great deal out of him, and he has so many invitations that he feels that his only possible course is to refuse them all.

He would like in some way to testify to his admiration for Alvin Johnson. Would it add anything to the occasion if he were to prepare a statement about Alvin Johnson's work and send it over to be read? I am sure that he would be glad to do that, and we could help him a little bit in putting it into English.

Yours Sincerely,

Dear Aydelotte:

I am just back from Winnipeg, Canada, and find your letter of May 7 re: Kann. As soon as I have had a chance to see Johnson I will write you about the matter, but I don't feel very hopeful.

Meanwhile, may I bespeak your judgment and help in this: As you probably know, Johnson is retiring this year. The news cannot be made public until his successor is released by the State Department, where he is Chief of the Division of Cultural Relations. His name is Bryn J. Howde -- a historian who has specialized on the Scandinavian countries, an authority on housing, and a bit of the Veblenian. As this will be Johnson's last commencement, we have thought of asking Einstein to make the commencement address. Let him say what he will. I know how reluctant he is to make public appearances, but this is a rather special occasion, and if he would make an exception it would be very deeply appreciated. I don't want, however, to approach him cold, and am therefore asking your good offices. The date we have tentatively set is Monday, June 11, but Friday, June 15 would do as well. He could talk, if he wanted to, about the method of science and its bearing on human knowledge and human relations.

I should be grateful for a word at your earliest convenience.

Dear Mr. Leidesdorf:

I will be glad to take up with Einstein again this question of appearing in a movie sponsored by the National Refugee Service. In my opinion, however, it would be simply impossible unless the scenario were completely rewritten. They propose to photograph Einstein first of all on the campus of Princeton University and all their references to him assume that he is a Princeton professor. There is no mention of the Institute. In the second place their proposal is that he go out to some farm and watch boys in swimming. If they were going to use Einstein in this picture they ought to use him as a scholar and the picture should show him at work among his colleagues at the Institute. Unless the scenario could be made to show Einstein (1) as a professor of the Institute for Advanced Study and (2) as a scholar rather than as a farmer or sportsman, I do not see how we can possibly ask him to take part in it. The scenario as submitted to me falls very far short of representing Einstein's significance in American life, and before I take the matter up with him, I wish you would talk to your friends in the National Refugee Service about that point.

I understand that you spoke to Dr. Einstein once about this, and that he is rather reluctant to do what they ask. Will you please approach him again, and tell him that I think he should do it.

I am very much in sympathy with the whole project, and I feel that the picture would have real value with Dr. Einstein in it. The force of his fine personality and the benefit of his excellent reputation would mean a great deal for the success of the undertaking. I would not trouble him if there was anyone else who came anywhere near him in this respect.

If you would prefer to have me call Dr. Einstein directly, I would be glad to do so. In either case, please let me hear from you about this at your earliest convenience.

Dear Mr. Leidesdorf:

Pursuant to our telephone conversation, I cannot possibly over-emphasize the tremendous importance and urgency of Dr. Einstein's participation in the Pathe film.

The film is one of the "This is America" series produced by Pathe, of which Mr. Frederick Ullman is the executive producer. Briefly, the film tells the story of the adjustment and Americanization of the 290,000 refugees who have entered the United States during the past decade on permanent visas, and who have become citizens of this country; it will underscore their contribution to our economic and cultural activities and their loyal participation in the war effort. The film will be released and distributed through the channels of RKO some time in December and will be shown in several thousand theatres throughout the country. It is estimated that the film will be seen by close to ten million people.

The project is on an irreproachable educational and civic level. From a public relations point of view the film will constitute the most dramatic and sympathetic statement in a decade of the benefits our country has derived from the presence of the refugees. It will be entirely non-controversial and for that reason all the more effective as an antidote to xenophobia.

We need hardly stress Dr. Einstein's significance in the mind of the American public as an incomparable representative of scientific, democratic and human values. He is by all odds the most distinguished new American citizen of the past decade.

His participation would immeasurably enhance the effectiveness of the film and constitute a great service to the cause of Jewry.

In accordance with the script, a copy of which was left for Dr. Einstein with Dr. Aydelotte, Dr. Einstein's participation would entail, at the most, about three hours of his time. Should you be successful in persuading Dr. Einstein to give his consent, all of the necessary arrangements will be made with a minimum of inconvenience.

I cannot express enough my gratefulness to you for your offer of help in this matter.

Yours sincerely,

(signed) Ephraim R. Gomberg

Ephraim R. Gomberg

P. S. As soon as you have persuaded Dr. Einstein to cooperate in the project, we shall make the necessary arrangements with the Pathe company as to time and place. The script, which by now should be familiar to Dr. Einstein, describes the locale where the sequences will be shot - a farm not far from Princeton. The chosen locale, with the small lake, is essential to the story. That is why it is important for Dr. Einstein to approve the scene in the script.

Dear Dr. Hill:

Professor Einstein has just returned to Princeton and I have had a talk with him about your proposed meeting at the Academy of Music on Sunday, October 29th. Professor Einstein regrets very much that it would be impossible for him to speak at the meeting. He has uniformly declined every such invitation for reasons of poor health and it would be impossible to make an exception in this case without subjecting himself to reproaches from others and to demands beyond his strength.

If you will let me know whether you think it will be useful to have some statement by Professor Einstein read at the meeting I will suggest that he prepare something for you. It would be a good thing if you would tell me as fully as you can the nature of the other talks which you are expecting and just what line you would like such a statement to take.

I am very sorry that Professor Einstein cannot appear in person but I must say that I agree fully with his reasons for declining and I am sure you would do the same if you understood all the circumstances.

Dear Doctor Aydelotte:

During all the years you lived almost next door to us at Cheyney, we never had the opportunity of your presence or word. And although we both belong to Harvard 1903, our paths in this community have scarcely met. That is not as it should have been.

At this long last, therefore, you may possibly be willing to let me ask of you a very great favor. It is that you help me personally to get Dr. Einstein to Philadelphia for either the last Sunday afternoon in October or the first in November, for a very brief appearance and equally brief word on the importance to minority groups in this country of their full support of our war effort. The occasion is a grand public rally at the Academy of Music. I know very well that if I should write to Dr. Einstein directly my letter would have small chance of any success. Your word, on the other hand, will be instantly respected.

The great annual War Chest Campaign in Philadelphia is well known to you. It is to support not only our essential home agencies but also services to our men and women in the armed forces. This year the goal for the city is $9,500,000.

On Sunday, October 29 or Sunday, November 5 the Cooperative Committee of the Campaign, of which I am chairman, is endeavoring to hold a great public meeting in the Academy of Music to rally the support of the people, with special reference to minority groups. In Philadelphia there is more than a quarter million Negroes, for instance, in whom the Committee is particularly interested, and a large population of Jews, Italians, Greeks and Russians.

Could Dr. Einstein be persuaded to come as our guest, with all accommodations and safeguards provided by the Campaign, to speak briefly on Why Minority Groups Should Give Full Support to the Campaign and War Effort. The meeting will not be long, with only brief reporting and some excellent music. It would be Dr. Einstein's presence not only as a world-famed scientist but still more as a great humanitarian that would crowd the Academy of Music and advance the whole Campaign. He would be making a great contribution not only to the successful prosecution of the war, but even more significantly to the peace that is to follow.

A reply at your earliest convenience will greatly help our Committee in this gigantic and merciful endeavor.

Perhaps your secretary has told you that I tried to reach you by telephone.

The American people are indebted to Adolph Hitler for a great enrichment of our cultural resources. Especially in scholarship, German refugees are making a contribution the importance of which it would be hard to over estimate. Conspicuous among them is Albert Einstein, ^{whose 65th birthday was Oct 14 and} who has been since 1932 a professor in the School of Mathematics of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton. Professor Einstein is now an American citizen who does his part not merely as a scholar among his colleagues but also as a public-spirited member of the community. He has earned the respect and affection of all who come in contact with him. He avoids publicity, works daily at his own researches, has undertaken an important investigation for the Navy, and quietly lends his support to many good causes. Einstein's experience is typical of the way in which the narrow racism of the Nazis has impoverished Germany. It illustrates also the way in which the traditional broad, democratic hospitality of the United States operates to widen and deepen ^{the intellectual and spiritual foundations} our own national life.

~~Einstein~~, and all ~~the rest of the refugees~~ ^{even the Christ saints & kids.} and need consent to live in a country in which freedom of thought & expression ^{is} denied, without such freedom no culture is possible which could command the loyalty and cooperation.

Dear Mrs. Collins:

I am sorry to have been so slow in writing you in response to your telephone message some days ago regarding an appointment with Professor Einstein. On talking with him I found, as I expected would be the case, that Professor Einstein is so tied up with his war work that it is difficult for him to give time to personal appointments. He says, however, that if you have some specific questions to ask him he would be very happy to have you write him and if he feels then that he could be helpful to you in any way he will be glad to make an appointment to see you.

Yours sincerely,

MARIE C EICHELSEER

Dear Mr. Hix:

Dr. Einstein is not a member of the Princeton University faculty but of a separate institution, the Institute for Advanced Study, which is located in Princeton. I am accordingly referring your inquiry about Dr. Einstein's blackboards to the Institute.

Sincerely yours,

FREDERICK S. OSBORNE

Dear Mr. Hix:

Mr. Osborne has forwarded me your letter of October 30th concerning Professor Einstein's blackboards. I am sorry to say that this story, like so many legends that have grown up around Einstein, is actually without foundation. The blackboard which Professor Einstein uses is cleaned off regularly by the janitors, just like anybody else's, and if he wants to preserve any calculations he has made he notes them down on paper.

Yours sincerely,

FRANK AYDELOTTE

Dear Professor Einstein:

I was approached in New York yesterday by a representative of the American Jewish Committee, who informed me that on October 12th the National Refugee Service, in cooperation with the non-sectarian refugee groups, is planning a radio program on the National Broadcasting Company network. I understand that the purpose of this program is to interest the general public in support of activities on behalf of refugees. They are planning to have a number of distinguished speakers, including President Neilson, formerly of Smith College, Thomas Mann, and others, and they would like very much to have a few remarks from you.

I told them that you were not well and their reply was that they would want you to speak only for about two minutes, that they would be willing to give you a general indication of the line they would like you to take, and that it could be arranged for you to make these remarks from your home in Princeton. I promised to put the matter up to you and to let them know your reply. Could I have a word with you about the matter at our house tomorrow either before or after luncheon?

Yours sincerely,

FRANK AYDELOTTE

Dear Sam:

Just a line to confirm my telephone request to you today in connection with Albert Einstein. The facts are as follows:

On October 12th the National Refugee Service, in cooperation with the non-sectarian refugee groups, is planning a radio program on a National Broadcasting Company network. They are planning to have a number of distinguished men on the program including Neilson, formerly of Smith, Thomas Mann and others. Among these they want to include Albert Einstein for just a few remarks which I understand they will be glad to prepare for him -- a minute or two in all. They understand that Professor Einstein has not been well, but it can be arranged for him to speak from his home in Princeton.

This is a program in which the National Refugee Service is particularly interested, and we want to do everything we can to help them work it out.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Rothschild

My dear Mr. Nelson:

Your letter of May 10 to the Bureau of Information, Princeton University, has been referred to us for reply. You will find information about Professor Einstein in a book by H. G. Garbedian entitled "Albert Einstein, Maker of Universes", published by Funk and Wagnalls Company,

Dear Sir:

I should like to have some information about the life of Dr. Einstein.

I am preparing a speech for the date May 29, 1941. The trend of my speech is to be the benefit that America has received by having such men as Dr. Einstein come to America. I have been unable to secure any adequate information, especially concerning his persecution and his reasons for leaving Germany.

I shall appreciate very much any material you have available.

Very truly yours,
Kenneth Nelson

December 20, 1940

Dear Angell:

I talked the matter over with Einstein at length this morning. He asks me to convey to you his very warm appreciation of your suggestion and to say at the same time that he regrets he feels he ought not to accept. The demands upon him at the present time are tremendous and he goes out of his way to do anything he can which promises to be of service to the country or to the British war effort, and beyond that he refuses everything which is merely a matter of personal interest or of pleasure. I am very sorry that he is not able to go, but I told him I was sure you would understand.

I am delighted to hear that you are putting on this television show and I hope it will not be long before you have a system which will stretch as far as Princeton.

With kindest regards, I am

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sydellette:

On January 24th the National Broadcasting Co. is entertaining the Federal Communications Commission with an exhaustive demonstration of television in all its aspects — scientific, practical, entertainment, etc. Do you any chance that Professor Einstein would listen to an invitation to come up here for lunch, see the entire demonstration and meet our scientific staff and the members of the Commission? The extraordinary things which radio and television are doing to space and time — those twin buddies of Einstein — would seem to offer something of interest to him.

A proper invitation will go forward to him, if you encourage it. He would have all his expenses met and, if that would weigh with him, I doubt not an honorarium could be arranged. The show is a damned good one and we should be delighted to have you come if you could do.

Best wishes for the holidays -

Ever sincerely
