Dear Miss Stafford:

I am very pleased that you have so satisfactorily worked out the arrangements for coming to Princeton next year. The Institute for Advanced Study charges a tuition fee of $100 a year. But I think I can get a scholarship for you of the same amount so that you will not have this expense. Perhaps it is best to let this matter wait until next Fall when you might remind me of it if you will. I am sending you a copy of the Bulletin which gives the only information available about the formal arrangements in the Institute.

Yours sincerely,

Oswald Vibler

Dear Miss Stafford:-

Dr. Flexner has agreed to the remission of your tuition fee. So everything is arranged.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Miss Stafford:

Thank you so much for your note of February 22nd, which has just reached me.

I shall be very happy to have you and Miss Schmeiser lunch with me on Saturday, March 2nd, and unless I hear from you to the contrary I shall look for you here at one o'clock that day. I understand that you will make the necessary arrangements with Miss Schmeiser.

Looking forward to seeing you, I am

Sincerely yours,

Anne Crawford Flexner
